To the Graduates of 2001:

Congratulations on a job well done. It has not been an easy journey these past four years, but together, we finally made it. This is an experience we'll remember for the rest of our lives. When our aspirations have been achieved, we can look back on our high school days and remember the crazy times when our dreams were just visions. From the moment we eagerly arrived as freshmen to the time we took our leave as seniors, our dreams have blossomed into reality. Now it's time to take the next step and pursue our ambitions. The opportunities are endless. The Class of 2001 has closed another chapter, and will enter the real world. We are all anxiously waiting to see what dreams may come.

Mr. Myslinski with parents as a child.

Mr. Myslinski 2001 Yearbook Dedication

Mr. Myslinski, aka "Mys," has touched the lives of many students here at SWHS. He is the head of the Guidance Department, the former track coach, and the coach of our varsity golf team. Mys started working here in 1974 with plans of staying for only one year. However, as Mys said, "One year turned into twenty-six." Mys grew up in Salem, Massachusetts, attending Catholic schools for thirteen years. He lived in a small neighborhood with his family, and, at that time, thought he would be pursuing a career in the Sciences and/or Social Studies. Before he accepted the job of counselor here at SWHS, Mys was both a Science and Social Studies teacher at different schools throughout the Northeast.

Mys lives with his wife, who he began dating when he was sixteen years old and still in high school. He has two daughters, one of whom is a lawyer in Manhattan, the other an elementary school special education teacher in Connecticut. When asked about the most rewarding part of his job, Mys responded, "The most rewarding part of my job is being able to sit down with one or two kids and just talk about things other than school, and have everyone remain completely open and comfortable." Mr. Myslinski is, at present, the most experienced guidance counselor at SWHS. Mrs. Wlodarczk, Mrs. Levy and one of our most recent counselors, Mrs. Quinn, were all interns for Mys when they first began their counseling careers. He feels that the present guidance department is his "family away from home," which causes Mys to take his position as Head of Guidance very seriously. When asked about the dedication, Mrs. Stone, a guidance counselor and one of Mr. Mys' colleagues, said, "This dedication is truly the greatest honor of all, and it is wonderful and deserving that Mys is receiving it. He has a talent for making people feel special and really good about themselves. Mr. Myslinski gives so much, touches so many and makes a difference every day. We, in guidance, are delighted with this wonderful choice."

Mr. Mys said, "I have never enjoyed a class as much as this since the class of 1983, and, ironic as it may seem, most people in this class were born that year." Pete Tonkin said, "I have always thought that Mys deserved the dedication. He has done so much for me that he doesn't even realize. I don't know how I would have made it through high school without him as my mentor." When the general student body was asked about how they feel about Mys, descriptions such as: "the man," "great guy," and "incredibly helpful" were among many of the expressed feelings. Mr. Mys was supported throughout the years by many others, also. He feels that his two secretaries, Mrs. Georgeadis and Mrs. Batrna, have always been there for him when he needed a little guidance of his own. In turn, both Mrs. Georgeadis and Mrs. Batrna have always wished well for their co-worker, as has the entire faculty and student body of SWHS. When asked what advice he would like to give the class of 2001, Mys replied, "When you look in the mirror each day, be sure you like and respect the person looking back at you. That person, unlike all others, will be with you forever." Mys says, "Young people give me life," and I think we are all aware that, in return, he leads students to a bright future and hopeful success for what dreams may come.

From the class of 2001, we'd like to extend a warm thanks to Mr. Myslinski for being more than our guidance counselor, but also a friend and mentor. We are so glad that he has been a part of our lives.

Mr. Myslinski and his wife Mary Jo at their 25th wedding anniversary.

by: Vitamin C

So we talked all night about the rest of our lives
Where we're gonna be when we turn 25
I keep thinking times will never change
Keep on thinking things will always be the same
But when we leave this year we won't be coming back
No more hanging out cause we're on a different track
And if you got something that you need to say
You better say it right now
'Cause you don't have another day
'Cause we're moving on and we can't slow down
These memories are playing like a film without sound
I keep thinking of that night in June
I didn't know much of love but it came too soon
And there was me and you and we got real blue
We'd stay home talking on the telephone
We'd get so excited and we'd get so scared
Laughing at ourselves thinking life's not fair
And this is how it feels...
As we go on, we remember
All the times we had together
And as our lives change
Come whatever,
We will still be friends forever
So if we get the big jobs and we make the big money
When we look back at now will our jokes still be funny?
Will we still remember everything we learned in school
Still be trying to break every single rule?
Will little brainy Bobby be the stockbroker man?
Will Heather find a job that won't interfere with her tan?
I keep thinking that it's not goodbye
Keep on thinking it's our time to fly
And this is how it feels...
As we go on, we remember
All the times we had together
And as our lives change
Come whatever,
We will still be friends forever
Will we think about tomorrow like we think about now?
Can we survive it out there
Can we make it somehow?
I guess I thought that this would never end
And suddenly it's like we're women and men
Will the past be a shadow that will follow us around
Will these memories fade when I leave this town?
I keep thinking that it's not goodbye
Keep on thinking it's our time to fly
As we go on, we remember
All the times we had together
And as our lives change
Come whatever,
We will still be friends forever

Summertime

Summer is probably the greatest of all times for any highschooler. It's a time to kick back, remember the school year, or try to forget it. It is a time to go to the beach with your friends and "catch some rays." For others, it is a time to work and make money, and then to spend it all. But for all, it is a time for fun.

■ ■ ■ ■ and ■ ■ ■ ■ Spirit Week

The fun began with Spirit Week: five days of spirit, in which students were to dress according to specific themes. It ended with the Mardi Gras Homecoming Dance, and with the way the gym was decorated, it felt like the real thing. There was dancing, laughter and a whole lot of fun. This was a night that everyone would remember.

A Look Back: The Younger Years

We all look toward a new life, but sometimes we need to see where we began...

We all remember the days when our main thoughts consisted of what was on TV, which friends could come over and play, and which fluorescent shirt went best with our Osh Kosh B'Gosh pants. Those were the golden years, in which we had no worries aside from what we were forced to eat for dinner and how late we could convince our parents to let us go to bed. Now, with all of the stress of tests and work and of course, applying to colleges, it's nice to relax and look back at our carefree childhoods.

Wonderful Tonight Prom 2000

On April 28, 2000, the day that most of the juniors had been anticipating throughout the year had finally come. It was time for the prom, and the day looked very promising. Many students left school early to begin the lengthy process of preparation for the evening ahead. They all hoped that the night would be perfect, and as the limosines arrived, everyone knew that it was going to be just as wonderful a night as one could imagine. As the students stepped out of their limos, they were seen talking excitedly with their friends, sharing hugs, and making the memories that would stay with them forever. "The dresses were beautiful," commented senior Lauren Pedrotty. "It was such a wonderful evening. I had a really great time."

The night ended too soon. It was as though we had just arrived, and yet it was already time to leave. However, everyone looked "Wonderful Tonight" at our prom, and it will be an occasion that we will always remember with a smile.

Most Embarrassing Moments in South Windsor High School

~Allison Bak: In seventh grade, Nora Belardinelli and I were watching my brother Jason's baseball game. We got tired from sitting on the bleachers, so we decided to sit in the car. Once we got in and started the car, it started moving. It rolled down the hill right onto the baseball field, where everyone panicked and ran off.

~Marjorie Parks: I went to mount my horse, so I put my foot in the stirrup and pulled myself up, throwing my leg over to the other side. The only problem was that my pants were a little too tight, so when I got my leg over they ripped from the front to the back.

~Shannon O'Conner: I went into one of the bathrooms in the beginning of the day before first period. All of a sudden the lights went out and I heard a click. The janitor had locked the door! I had to bang on the door and scream for someone to let me out.

Under New Management

The "Big Dogs" on Campus

Dr. John DiIorio is happy to have found a new home here at South Windsor High. When he first saw the school he was overwhelmed by the size, but he was impressed by the friendly atmosphere and focused students. He says he is already very comfortable in his first year at South Windsor High. He is going to focus on getting to know more students personally. He considers his first year to be a success but has many plans to further his success in the future. He is the leader and founder of a committee whose main focus is revamping academic procedures and policies for following years. They use a national publication called "Breaking Ranks," as a reference, which explains what high schools are and should be doing today. His style has always been to work with students to achieve a mutual goal. He feels that students should have a voice when it comes to making school-related decisions. One of his most exciting moments was when Mrs. Cuscovitch won the Math Teacher of the Year award. He felt pride in personally recommending the recipient of this prestigious award. He looks forward to many years to come and has plans to further improve South Windsor High School as its new principal.

Mr. William Barry, the new friendly and charismatic associate principal, feels right at home here at South Windsor High. Mr. Barry enjoys activities such as tennis, mountain biking, swimming (even though he doesn't know how) and pursuing extreme cliff diving. His easygoing personality enables students to feel comfortable communicating with him at a productive level. Coming straight out of East Lyme Middle School, Mr. Barry not only finds pleasure in interaction with students, but he also possesses a great love of teaching. He currently maintains a second job at Sacred Heart where he teaches graduate sociology and graduate classroom management. In addition, he is pursuing his Ph.D in educational research at Lancaster University in England. Among his many great accomplishments, Mr. Barry wrote a book in 1998 entitled Tearing Down the Classroom Walls, which focuses on building new methods of learning and educating. Outside of school and teaching, Mr. Barry is both a husband and a father. He and his wife, Michelle, have two daughters named Liam and Jessica. Mr. Barry is also involved with a community organization, self-developed, called Interact. As the leader of this organization, he guides students through certain community activities, fundraisers and Habitat for Humanity.

Retirements

When Dreams Come True

William Chernik

After 36 years of hard work and dedication as a member of our faculty, Mr. Chernik has decided to retire. He had to think long and hard, but he ended up making the emotional decision to leave South Windsor High School.

Mr. Chernik grew up in Windsor, Connecticut and graduated from Central Connecticut State University in 1965. In that same year, he married his wife of 36 years after meeting her on a blind date. Mr. Chernik now has three kids and six grandchildren with whom he plans to share all of his newly achieved freedom. He didn't hesitate to give his views on life, saying that "Family is the most important aspect of your life." His recent career decision was based on having the ability to raise a family. He had originally started working with computers and submarines, but after talking it over with his wife, he decided to go into teaching in order to spend more time with his family.

Mr. Chernik started working at South Windsor as a math teacher, but throughout the years he has worked in the guidance department and with the vocational education department, and has also been key in developing the career center. Mr. Chernik has worked countless hours and put in a lot of hard work to improve our school. Most Importantly, Mr. Chernik has always been a great friend. "He's one of those teachers that when you see him in the hallway, you can't help but smile," senior Keri Willis stated. He always seems to raise the spirits of students and teachers. When students need a helping hand, Mr. Chernik never hesitates to step in and help out. He has played important roles at our pep rallies and proms, and has also coached the freshman basketball team. He has participated and helped organize over 25 trips to Europe, and has been on countless ski trips with the Outing Club. He has also proven his patience while teaching a number of students in Drivers' Education, having taught this class for 34 years. Mr. Chernik has shown his dedication to our school through all of his accomplishments and his hard work. He has been a friend to all, and has truly lived up to his words of advice: "To live is to be involved, and to be involved is to live." Mr. Chernik will be greatly missed, but his memories will live on at South Windsor High School.

James Woodworth

After 31 years, in education, Mr. Woodworth will be retiring from South Windsor High School. Last year was Mr. Woodworth's final year of teaching. In the past 31 years he has taught Journalism and has advised the South Windsor High School newspaper, The Southwinds. Mr. Woodworth has also taken part in the Connecticut Forum, which is a group of students from around the state who come together to discuss issues that affect our everyday lives. Mr. Woodworth has put in a lot of hard work at our school. He not only did his job as a teacher, but continued to help the school by volunteering for extra-curricular activities. He went beyond the call of duty to make the community at South Windsor High School a better place.

This year Mr. Woodworth has been working one-on-one with students in the Media Center. What he enjoys the most about his job is getting the opportunity to work closely with the students. He has put in countless hours of hard work, and even after his retirement he plans on working in the Media Center. Throughout this year, Mr. Woodworth has learned to work more efficiently with the computers and has also further developed his knowledge of the Internet. His goal is to continue to help teachers and students to become more familiar with the Internet. Also, Mr. Woodworth would like to work on developing the Media Center web page. His influential career at South Windsor High School has had a great impact on the school, and his teaching will surely be missed.

The Bobcats had high hopes for their first Division I season. The Cats demolished the competition in the previous season and won the Division II state championship. Their success at the championship moved the team up to Division I which increased the difficulty of their schedule. The Cats were up for the challenge. They finished with an overall record of 12-7 and a conference record of 7-1. The Cats shared the CCC Championship with Conard and were runners up in the Northern championship.

When asked about how he thought his team did this year, Coach Marc Graham said, "I was pleased. We played a much tougher schedule. We played the #1 and #2 teams in the state. We lost but it prepared us for the tournament." The preparation paid off; the Cats made it to the quarter finals but lost to State Champion Darien.

Girls' Lacrosse '00

The 2000 season was going to be one of rebuilding for the Lady Bobcats, but the girls had more than that in mind. The South Windsor High School girls' lacrosse team has had a history of exceeding others' expectations and this season was no exception. Returning All-State player, Sarah Poythress, and senior, Lea Zubretsky, led the team as co-captains, with five other seniors to help them out. The Bobcats began the season by winning their first four games, but of course their start wasn't completely flawless. "We hit some bumps," Coach Ed Duclos said, "but the team stepped it up, particularly the seniors, and worked them out." The 2000 season was also one filled with illness and injury. Under such great senior leadership, underclassmen were forced to step it up, and they did. The Lady Bobcats will return many key players such as Keri Willis, Deb Larson, Chasity Roberts, Lynda Hayward, Emily Tully, Caitlin McCarthy, Stacey Bergfeld, and Katie Haffner. The 2001 season looks to have a lot of potential.

A Season of Team Unity

"This year was a lesson learned," says Coach Geraghty of the boys' cross country team. The boys finished fourth in the conference and ended with an overall record of 8-6. Since most of the members of the boys' team were juniors, sophomores, and freshmen, hopes are rising that they will do better next season and win a championship. This season, the girls' cross country team exceeded all expectations and ended with a record of 18-2, finishing in a second-place tie with Rockville. The girls also finished third in the State Class LL meet and ninth in the State Open meet. One of the senior captains, Alanna Carlton, reflected on the past season: "This year was awesome! We really bonded as a team. The support for each other was amazing." Next season, the girls have high hopes that they will repeat their very successful season and even improve their status as a powerhouse in the CCC East.

The CCC East Conference Champs

This year brought on new changes for the Bobcats' field hockey team. Coach Tara Kurek was in her first year as head coach, and new leaders rose up to lead the Bobcats to the CCC East Championship. Seniors Deb Larson, Kelly Niederwerfer, and Lisa Veniscofsky became captains and guided their young team to the State Tournament. However, it was not an easy trip to make. The first-year coach had to learn some new rules and the team itself had to learn how to adapt to their new coach. They did come together under new guidance and produced a 4-1 conference record to win the CCC East Conference Championship and earned a berth to the State Tournament. Unfortunately, they were defeated by Greenwich in the tournament. Coach Kurek has already set goals for next year with plans to apply different playing strategies than this year. The girls have high hopes of having another successful season next year.

A Season of Determination

If you have been to any of the South Windsor football games this year, then you know that at every game the Bobcats' sideline was full of emotion and pride. This year's team was packed with desire, and the team never quit. The score never influenced the intensity of the Bobcats' play. Rob Madrid said this about his team's determination: "I think everybody had a lot of fun playing football this year. We had a lot of dedication. No one stopped working hard, no matter how many obstacles we faced." The Bobcats had a great time this year while also learning some valuable lessons. Senior Captain Paul Korzep stated that, "The season didn't come out the way we had hoped, but it was a blast and it was fun playing with my teammates for the last time." The last game of the season was a perfect example of how the boys played their hearts out and although they lost, the game showed how they left their mark on the Bobcat tradition.

Boys' Soccer

From the beginning pre-season games, the boys' soccer team played with a high level of heart and dedication. They thought this determination would ensure a winning season. However, certain unlucky yet crucial matches proved to be the downfall of the boys' goal to be in the tournament. Led by senior tri-captains Pete Tonkin, Tim Williams and Nick Zandonella, the boys' team fought their way through state-ranked teams such as Manchester, E.O. Smith and Fermi. Other standout seniors such as Peter Nadeau, Ryan Kaufman and Paul Matarazzo helped secure the Cats' six wins. Paul Maximino and Mike Griffin lead the junior Bobcats' offense. Senior Tim Williams led the team in scoring with ten goals, including a hat trick against Hartford. Despite the boys' losing season, Coach Niederwerfer claimed, "We played with heart through the whole season, and that's what matters the most. We were unlucky at times, but overall, I couldn't be more proud of this group of guys." The Bobcats will be losing six seniors, but the twelve returning juniors hope to turn the boys' season around for next year.

Girls' Soccer

"Choose your own destiny." That was the motto for the girls' soccer team this season, and they chose to follow a path of success. After a disappointing season last year, the girls were determined not to repeat the past. The team was led by captains Krista Nordmark and Lori Kaldy, as well as seniors Katie Levasseur, Patty Lolley and Keri Willis. Juniors Kara Fleet and Carlee MacAlees contributed to many of South Windsor's 61 goals and goalie, Krista "the wall" Nordmark, posted 9 shutouts for the Bobcats. "This season was like a dream," Coach Morgan-Hostetler commented. "We played with a lot of heart and won every game we should have won." A highlight of the season came when MacAlees scored in the last seconds of the game to beat E.O.Smith 1-0 and tie for first place in the conference. The girls ended the season, 14-4, with a loss to nationally ranked Trumbull. It's unfortunate that only one team in the state can end the season with a win, but next year's Bobcats have a lot of potential to be that team. Regardless of how the season ended, the bonds that were formed and the memories that were made will last a lifetime.

Boys' Basketball

CCC East Champions

The boys' basketball team started the season with a low-reaching goal of obtaining a record over .500. As the season progressed the Bobcats developed a new, more difficult goal, of winning their first CCC East conference title. The Bobcats put themselves in position to achieve their goal by fighting their way into first place with the final two games remaining. The Cats needed to win both of the games in order to win the conference outright. The first game featured South Windsor vs. Manchester, who gave the Cats one of their only two conference losses. On Senior Night, at home, the Bobcats rose to the occasion. With just over one minute remaining, the Cats went on a 16-4 run to win the game 77-70. "We had a great season and it ended perfectly by beating Manchester at home on Senior Night," said Jose Gonzales. "It couldn't have gotten any better." The Cats needed to win their final regular season versus rival Rockville in order to win their first CCC East championship. The Bobcats won the game with style. With only 6 seconds remaining, senior Chris Lombardo streaked past two defenders and scored a basket to seal the victory 45-42. The Bobcats attributed much of their success to the support they received from the stands. "The fans were a big part of our success this season. They supported us no matter how we performed," stated Justin Kapisak. The Cats exceeded all expectations this year by obtaining an overall record of 16-7 and a conference record of 12-2.

Girls' Basketball

The girls' basketball team suffered a large amount of injuries this season and a number of close losses, but they did not let that bring them down. For the first time in three years, the girls made the state tournament. Unfortunately, they ended their season with a close loss to top ranked Simsbury. However, for the first time in five years, they earned a victory over Manchester. Seniors Lindsay Werkhoven and Sarah McAloney led the team as co-captains. They finished the season with an overall record of 8-13 and a conference record of 6-8. This earned the Lady Bobcats a fourth-place rank in the conference, which was one of the team's goals. "Our difficulties arose from chronic injuries to key players. Otherwise, the team was very 'together,'" quoted Coach Frascino. The team especially showed their togetherness when they went on a five-game winning streak toward the end of the season. The girls' basketball team looks to continue their success in future years as they return key players Kim Niederwerfer and Anne Rounce.

I remember when I first came to the high school. I was so excited with my new experiences and I knew I still had four years left to go. The years flew by so quickly, I felt that I entered one day and I am graduating the day after. I am still thinking of my childhood years and how I progressed. It was so quick I can't even remember everything that happened. When I first entered the high school, I felt I still had a lot of time left in counting the years down, now I am counting down by months, but soon it will be by weeks and days toward graduation!

James Burnham

It's been four memorable years at South Windsor High. I want to thank everyone who helped me through the years. Soo-thanks for putting up with me; I know I'm a pain. To the rest, you all know who you are. There are so many great memories that happened. I'll always remember London, "mind the gap please, mind the gap." And the wall that fell down, for no apparent reason. Hey Meg- some words of advice always look before you cross the street, try not to get distracted by my scarf wannabes. Ashley and Danielle- remind me never to open a locker in this school ever again, or just don't give me certs. Cong and Dan- we all hang out too much, I'll probably see you guys next year, but it's all good. Dad- Thank you for everything that you have done and all the sacrifices you made. John- I am your sister, don't deny it. I love you. I love you all!

Jonathan Julius Chuck

The past four years have been an experience to remember. I feel I changed a great deal because of the friends I made, and the experiences we had. I grew not only in age, but also, as a person. I learned responsibility, and independence two things that will help in the future. Leaving South Windsor High School I will remember all my friends, the parties at the castle, the beach, Prom, DMB, tailgating, Canada, Lieberfest 2000, the golf team, my talks with Kim, the best friend I made with Kyle and the fun we had with our adventures, that lead to success and failure. I will especially remember the love I found and cherish more than anyone could ever know Kristi, even though she dragged me to every dance she could. I would also like to say thanks to my parents who always stuck by me and let me become who I am today.

"Friends always stick together..." I have come to realize in these past four years that when you have good friends, life opens up doors for you. In the past four years I have learned many lessons that will help me for the rest of my life... Some lessons were hard, but good friends make those hard times easy. I will always remember the summer of 2000 with my girl Chasity; life is full of surprises (right, Chaz?). Also, Ruby, who will always be in my heart. I love you guys and may God be with you in everything you do. To SWHS I leave all my love to Joanna and Angie... my two girls. I want to thank my aunt and grandma for the inspirational talks. Step off the edge of your fears and fall into the sky of the future, free falling with the chills of the unknown pressing against your face, as you plummet downward through the clouds look up at your past--what do you see when you close your eyes and remember? So much has happened: art class '99, '00 with the crew, conferences with omnipotent Scotty; Melanie and Lisa, who know the full extent of my soap opera life, concerts, Abby, Dan, Nicole--take care of Caitlin (you know how we do) Prom '00; Timmy, you are a best friend and I would be lost without you. Thanks Mom and Dad for everything, for as I learned to fly you have been my parachute.

Bradford R. Degen

To all my friends you know who you are. I would like to wish you farewell. The curtain has fallen and the lights have dimmed. We have all taken our bows and it is time to leave. We have finally reached what seemed like an unattainable goal and graduated. But this is far from the end of the road that lies at our feet. May some of our paths cross in the near future and if they do not I will never forget you.

The words of Mr. Foley aptly describe our current position in life: "I am in what darkened space there is to come." Who knows where we may go from here? The only certainty is that we shall carry our memories with us forever. I know that I'll always remember the big things, like France with Adam and Sarah, prom with Rob, and Quebec with Lisa. Yet I'll recall the small things as well, the '99 lunch posse with Meg, Em, and Corbo, bowling with Helen and Art, the locker, tennis with Mo! and cookies every day. Lisa, we've done so much together, backpacking and skiing with the Outing Club, our trip to Florida, all the attempted sports, your friendship means so much to me. Laura, thanks for always standing by me. Thanks to all my friends, old (Helen, you're the best, 15 years!) and new (Julie, I'll miss you), and also to my family for all their support.

Wait I wasn't ready! Can we try that again? The past four years have been filled with laughs, smiles, tears, and really bad hair days. Without the love and support of my mom, dad, and close friends I don't know if I would have made it through with a smile on my face, and grown to be the person I am today. Meg- What would I do without you, you have always been there for me no matter what and I'll always love you! The silver coupe won't ever catch us. Meghan- I'm glad we finally became good friends. Justin- Thanks for staying until the last dance. Big guy- You have been the best big brother a girl could ask for I'm speechless. It seems like yesterday I was going into a new world, a world called high school. Upon entering that new world I was afraid, but now that I'm going to depart, I'm braver than ever. The new friends I made are the best people in the world; without Tuan and Kevin my life would have been so dull. To Dave, Ash, Christina, Dan, Steve, and all the others that I leave behind, keep up the good work, always do your best, and never forget me. Considering all the movies I saw, the magic tournaments I went to, the year of Robotics, and all the other stuff I did, high school didn't turn out that bad. I don't think I'll ever forget high school or anyone I met. Thanks Mom and Dad, thanks for everything.

I have always thought that high school would never end, but it obviously will. No one is the same person that they were four years ago and what we have done in between has made all the difference. All of my out of control girls- Lindsey, Alison, Ashley, Lynda, Leah, Anitra, Kim and Sal, itty bitty and big unite forever. The fun has been intense, and I promise it won't stop. Monday night 'Roswell' and breakfast will never be as good. Before, during and after snowballs, homecomings, the prom and any time we were dancing was great. I have to thank my parents and sister, Steph for doing that whole supportive family thing, you define real love. To my friends- best, lost, and casual, we made it together and the love will always be here. You are what high school is all about; if you ever wondered if it was nice to know you, I tell you now that it was.

As the seconds tick away; Of each moment, of every day We try to remember the past four years; Of learning our true hopes our dreams and our fears What did I do, oh way back when; When I liked her, and she liked him Let's just say that it's all behind us; As we sit and stare, dreaming into stardust, Have you ever wished upon a star; Praying your Love doesn't travel so far They say silent reflection is the best; But we must type it so here's the rest. It's been four great years—let's stay in touch; And hide our tears and talk very much No names listed here for I'm sure to forget; My brothers my friends or one even better yet dedicated to my one true love; That's been sent to me by someone above. For without her, I would be lost; and on that note, hopefully again our lives will once again cross.

Studies show that the mind only has room for a certain amount of memory. Instead of that integral or derivative, I wish I better remembered all of the beautiful faces that I have greeted in the halls. Instead of the fact that Mrs. Smith wants coffee after her meal, I wish I better remembered the talented musicians I have seen on stage. Instead of the periodic table, I wish I had better remembered the infinite amount of support that my parents and sister gave me. Crazy summer nights, raw New England winter ones, and joyous times in spring and fall... Nevertheless, no regrets. To my people, I love you all.

There is no possible way I can cram four years of my life into 700 characters or less, so I'm not even going to try. It won't matter if I tell you everything or nothing, I cannot consolidate myself into this tiny claustrophobic space. There are, however, a few things that have to be said. To my parents – thank you for putting up with me, supporting me and guiding me. Tim and Maggie – you made growing up an interesting experience; I love you. Em, Corbo, and Meg – I wouldn't have survived without you. I will take my memories with me, especially those of Frosh adventures, The Locker, hockey games, France '99, fun with hair dye, cross country and track seasons, Ancient World, sharing books with Susan, the inside jokes, and the fun we've always managed to have. All this is just the beginning, and the years I have spent here are just the beginning as well.

Natalie LaChall

As these days unfold and the crinkled leaves fall over the browned earth, I stop and sigh. I fiddle through loose photographs remembering days ago and friends far gone. I walk through hallways and doorways that once seemed to hold all of the answers but now just seem so small. I look behind at what I have walked through. The journey seemed so short but never forgettable. The sunset of today has come, and the dawn of tomorrow awaits me. Thank you to Robin. Though you may not be walking beside me you will always be walking with me. True friends are few and rare, but I treasure our time spent together. You have left an imprint on me that will always stay in my heart.

Nancy Lachance

Pet Peeves: Everyone who tries to be better than everyone else. To Matt, I love you so much. Thank you for being my best friend.

The most important lesson that I learned in high school was not taught to me. Instead, the past four years have shown me the meaning of friendships. I cannot leave without expressing the immense gratitude that I owe to Carolyn, Ross, Colin, Courtney, Kristina, Brian, and others. I'll always remember the times we have shared together. France '99 was the best time in my life, with forgotten curfews and unheard alarms. I'll never forget the parties when my parents weren't home, Hampton Beach with Ross, great times with Carolyn, concerts (Britney Spears, DMX/Limp Bizkit), Prom '00 with Aimee, and summer '99 with Lisa and Kim. Most of all, I'll never forget the times when we all just hung out and laughed. I wish everyone luck in the future. We must all go our own ways, but I hope that we will never lose touch.

I'm not sure if these past four years have flown by or if they were the longest four years of my life. I do know, however, that I'm glad they're over. My time here has been filled with many experiences; some couldn't have been better; others could've. The proms with Lisa and Julie were both very memorable, without both of them I'm sure my life at SWHS would've been very different. I would like to thank all my friends for being there and always tolerating me. Dan, I can't believe we've been friends for 15 years; you've literally always been there for me. Dave, well, we're a lot closer than we were at PRS when I beat on you almost every day. Of course now we run; I can't decide which is worse for us. (Running Man) Adam and Ross, people always thought you came as a package deal, and honestly sometimes you did, but you have both impacted my life more than you might ever realize. High school was easy; now the fun begins, and we find out who our real friends are!

It's tough to sum up the memories of the last four years. The people who have been along this journey with me are Todd, Jeff, Laura, Matt, Maureen, Eric, and Kelly. Each and every one of you is very dear to me! The times we have spent together are priceless and will never be forgotten. Trips to RI for no reasons, trips to the beach, random drives, early morning ski trips to VT, 6th period on Tuesday's, conversations with Jeff, Prom, "late" night talks with Laura, parties with the group, all the wonderful group nights watching pointless movies, and the endless laughter made it memorable. The famous roof! Canada ski trips have been the best, midnight Denny's trips with the group and golf over the past 3 years. These are truly the best times of our lives but in the end we will remember not the words of our enemies, but the silence of our friends.

"Beginnings are scary. Endings are usually sad, but it's what's in the middle that counts. So, when you find yourself at the beginning, just give hope a chance to float up." It has been a saucy ride here at SWHS, no matter how much I try to deny it. Running with my cross-country girls, crashing into trees, ski trips, and late night movies. Homework I-4. Obsessions, you all know who you are, DMB/Britney concerts, Spain, Italy, and FPS teams. Prom, yeah, that was interesting. Maura, thanks for breaking me out of my shell, teaching me how to go crazy, and for making high school not so lonely. Allison, more Mafia movies. Art, thank you for listening, sometimes the only thing I ever needed. Good luck, Matthew! "I feel as if my skin is the only thing keeping me from going everywhere at once." And we're outta here!

"There are places I'll remember all my life, though some have changed, some forever, not for better, some have gone and some remain." Greatest moments: Quebec, Annapolis, Philly, Frosh parties, state bowl, soda can towers, "stalking," movie nights with Chase and Matt, sharing lockers, being Hamlet, chat rooms, Bye Bye (Bye) Birdie, picnics, Prom, Homecoming, Friendly's, Le Petit Prince, DMA, Laurel, 11/17. Music-everything about marching band-Silver medal! To Amie, Laura, Courtney-we finally made it! I couldn't have done it without you. To all of my friends-you are my angels. Don't cry because it's over; smile because it happened. To everyone I leave behind-I wish you luck and love in your every endeavor. The days pass so quickly and goodbye always comes too soon-grab each second and don't let go. No regrets, okay?

Maureen Morse

The memories of the past four years will never be forgotten. So many wonderful times. The hockey games, sleepovers, movie nights, scavenger hunts, the dances, late nights at Denny's, Friendly's, choir rehearsals, all the marching band practices, our first silver medal, Philadelphia, Quebec, Montreal, and of course Cape Cod, the ski trips, the prom, awesome tennis matches with Kristina and lots of laughs with Matt, Todd and Jeff. To all my friends, Laura, Amie, Susan, Courtney, Megan, and Claudia I wish you all the best. May the future bring you nothing but happiness. I couldn't have survived the last four years without you. Thanks Mom and Dad.

Art Mullen

Oh, sweet Jesus, you know? Soon, not now, but soon. Actually, now. Back off me. You're like a monkey on my back. I can't take it anymore. The worst thing that ever happened to me involved three beavers, chunky peanut butter and an old sleeping bag, but this is a close second. Don't you get it? The work, the stress, the expectations. It's sucking your will to live and you don't need it. Trust me because this isn't just, like, my opinion, man. The life they've chosen for you doesn't have to be the way you go. We ain't even old and we all got the chance right here. Change. Y'all hear what I'm saying? If not now, then soon. Actually, now.

We can never go back. That much is certain. I never shut doors on my rebel years with my girls at the fields, forgetting consequences. Hid behind innocence with fab four and Matt. I stood at the crossroads and played the game with Jay. Watched a sea with Jimmy. The fog was like a cage without a key Irony at camp led to a road at Valley Falls. Jerry and Tiger showed the way in a labyrinth, then we tripped. I crashed into a van. A summer of Greenwood showed it's extremely hard to become happy but it's not too hard to be happy. 7/5 with Steve. Crying at the canyon and my roof in Zona. Robin said without dreams you die. This isn't who it would be if it wasn't who it is- Phish with Mark and El. My goal is just to be A broken windshield. My bed is yours Laur, Mich, Chris- be who you are and know what you believe in. Katie- I'll be proud of whoever you become. Mom and Dad-you are the foundation to my castles in the sky. Thank you everyone...

Seth Murkette

The past four years were hard but I made it. Well now I'm out and ain't turnin back. All I have to say is good luck for the people who have to go through it after I get out because it will be hell. The good things that came out of it were all the parties and good times I had hanging out with my boys and they will continue. To the times chillin on my porch this summer and to the sweet times hanging with my boys Tim P, Craig A, Steve R, my boy Matt, Conner, Ian, Harwood and to all the people I missed. Also to the sweet times down at the beach hanging out with Stacy, Craig, Trabel and Steve and Stephanie. The times I won't forget. All I have to say is "Live life in the fast lane" and keep on "Rollin Baby" by Limp Bizkit.

As I look back on these fours years, I realize that these have been the best years of my life...so far anyway. I've had great times with great people who I will never forget. It started off with Greg and Dave: football in the field and other games with headaches and pads of paper. Then, the great times at the Brannon's, 2 hour desserts at Friendly's, New Year's Eve '00, trips with Todd to the campground, skiing in VT, X-games, Canada ski trips, WPI with Brad. Then, of course, there was First. Florida, Chips and Daver, team G, trips to laser tag, Six Flags, sky coaster, prom with Kirsten, Reel Big Fish, Gravity Games. Now it's climbing with Brad and AP study. These experiences have taught me a lot about life and the important people in mine. Thanks to Mom, Gil, Dad, Marie and everyone else for being there. Good luck Ali, and remember, Have Fun!

Welcome to another senior write-up, like most done within an hour of its due date. These past four years have gone by surprisingly slow, like being dragged to an early death. At least I am finally done with it and can get on with my life. Goodbye to those I could actually stand, Sage, good luck in life and we will never lose touch, Nate, let us never speak of anything we did ever again, Jon, Where? And a few others. Good luck to everyone now that they are out of the oppressive little box known as high school and into the real world.

Hilary Peak

Activities include volleyball, indoor track and softball. Volleyball teams have been awesome and have left many memories with me. Pasta parties, bus trips, music and seniors. Softball includes the same types of memories plus the sleepover and who can forget Mad Hatter. Shall I call myself Tweedle Dum or Hil-dog? Indoor track well can we say hot guys, am I in it for the guys, right Bridges? Lindsay is it a CVS run? A Ruby's run or just guy hunting? Economics 4th period with Kelly and Lindsay. Rhetoric 1st period. Cherry Coke drink of a Puritan woman. Classes including band with Claw. New year's traditions with Bethany. I'm leaving behind the trumpet section to the trumpet goddess and Scanlon, the volleyball team in hopes for a title, the softball team still trying to be serious. Thanks to my mom and the shot put coach for believing in me.

These last four years of high school have gone by so fast. If I had to redo my high school experience, I would not because I am happy with all of the choices I have made. I feel that one of the most important ingredients in life is to live life with no regrets. I am going to live my life after high school to the fullest and always remember that it is never too late to fulfill your goals. The highlights of my high school career: Sara, who is not only my girlfriend, but also my best friend. Some of my best times were with the South Windsor High School Golf Team, spending time with Matt and Chris, who are not only my teammates, but also life long friends. I will always remember the cottage in the summer of 1999 with Brian and Keenum. I would like to especially thank Mr. Mys, Mrs. Stone, the Dunham and Mastriano families, 5471 Big Boy Zip, my best friend, my Dad, my Grandma in Maine, Mom, Steve, Seth and Gabi for always being there whenever I needed you. Well, its been fun living up here, experiencing snow and all those other northern activities that I nver had the pleasure of encountering in the Sunshine state. Thank you for showing me a new side of life and a special thanks to all those who embraced me with their warm friendship (all of you know who you are). I'm off to follow my dream, but I won't forget any of y'all, and I hope that it is mutual. Remember that if you truly believe, anything is possible. Well adios kids, I'm off. Hopefully someday I'll look out into the lights from the stage and see you, and if any of y'all are in South Florida, gimme a call. Later.

It seems to me that mentality has a trend. Intelligence is inversely proportional to our population. The very small percentage of Einsteins and Hawkings in the world straddle the immense group of society's consumers. There are givers, and there are takers. I'm not saying that I'm an Einstein, but I shoot to be a giver. A taker's mind is too busy stealing test answers and mooching off of the corporate machine to give you a feasible answer to your question. Unlike takers, givers will assist you in achieving a solution; however, the probability of meeting one is much lower. Givers I know: My family, O'Brien, Saur, Lassman, Schindlers, First, C. Prague, Crew, Betts, Mo, Dufor, McAndrew, Greaves, Hu.

Just when I thought four years was turning into an eternity, I woke up one morning and realized I was graduating, I realized I would have to leave my teenage years behind, as well as all the teachers who'd enhanced my life. I would have to say goodbye, at least temporarily, to friends who become so dear to me. High school is over. The future awaits. I know I will make new memories and new friends as life goes on. However, I will never forget those friends who've left their mark on my life Nour, Ruby, Lynda, Britt. Take care! So many teachers and friends have helped me to endure the stresses over the years, thank you all Mr. Mys, Duke, Mrs. Babiec, Mr. Hermes, all not mentioned by name. Last but not least, I owe any success I've had to my mom, Garfield, Auntineen, and family. Thanks for allowing me to make the most of everything. I love you all!

High School flew by so fast. There have been some great times in these last four years. Good times in study hall reading car magazines and talking about fast cars with Brian, Mark, Rich, Jay and Adam. Fast times in the Chevelle, going to the pike and usually coming home on the hook, Great memories in 20 days the blue Chevelle was alive..Exit 71, good times working for CJN landscaping, Riding quads, Poppin' wheelies in the Jimmy, trips to Lebanon Valley in the 2000 Camaro SS, Working on all of Hilton's pieces. Spending the winter of '00 building the 72 Chevelle..ZZ4, keeping BFGoodrich in business. It has been fun, but it is time to move on in life.

My four years of high school have definitely been an emotional rollercoaster. Now that it has come to an end, I can look back on the good and bad times, and laugh. I will never forget all of the endless nights of dancing, singing to Christina Aguilera songs and being a superstaa! To all of the friends I have loved and lost, know that you have never lost me. For some, high school is all about books, tests and grades. However it's also about friends, experiences, and memories. Throughout my four years of high school, I can't remember all the tests I took or what grades I got, but I do remember all the friends I met, all the new experiences I encountered, and all the memories that were made. Baseball has brought me closer to a lot of people who I can call my true friends. State champs '99', '00'. Myrtle Beach '00' was the best trip of my life, Bonfires during those crazy summers, I'll never forget. Late nights at Friendly's were interesting. As I leave high school, I leave the one true friend I have met, Kerry. I don't know what I would do if I hadn't had the opportunity to meet you. Thank you all for the memories, I'll never forget my high school experience.

Michael James Wetmore

Mike Einstein, Vocalman 16, Music 1MJW

The forthcoming years I may go in quest of satisfying my ambition, but that does not mean the past memories of my life will be kidnapped. They shall be moments I treasure for the rest of my life, because they will lay vibrantly in my mind with the joys and happiness I have experienced at S.W.H.S. Although at times, they perhaps appeared to have turned sour, they were only ephemeral periods, yet highly privileged states of instruction. I will always remember all the conversations that my teachers have taught me life-lessons, late homework nights, times spent in Choral Spectrum, Vocal Ensemble, school trips, my friends and everything I have done with them. There especially lies a place in my heart for the Knureks, my family = my life, and my Emy Baby who supports me through everything. This I choose to never forget and this I will miss.

Chris Wetzel

In this great future you can't forget your past, and I will remember these years long after we've blown up the moon. Bonfires, tailgating, chillin after school with Stony way too often, reasoning and trying the fruits with Eliot (and 6 years of painful signs of affection in English), Godfather and Lebowski, jungle music and freaky puppets, the first time with Vassar, epiphanies with Sammy, study hall with Hubbs, the beach after prom (Sandwich! Hah!)... Too many memories to list here. Big up my CVS crew— the pigman's on the loose! Bizimine, Bente, Susanna, and Krissy— you got yourselves some fine ealcuminations, and a support sleeve is not a sweater for a dog. Thanks to all the family, friends, and teachers that made the past four years so great. You just can't live in that negative way, make way for a positive day.

- Bob Marley

Cynthia Wickles

I didn't spend all four years here at South Windsor and so therefore most of my memories are at Palm Beach Gardens. The best trips were to the beach on all half days, 3 hour trips to Disney World (especially for Candlelight), Karaoke on Friday nights, and Carnegie Hall (April 2000). Good times spent with friends were Variety Shows, sharing secrets, the American Gay-Easter-Bunny-Day, Chorus class, and the Television and Film Production magnet. Two things that I will never forget, is meeting Jeff Gordon and going to the Pepsi 400 (July 1, 2000) live. A Very Special Thanks to ALL the people here who have been kind enough to open up their hearts and who became friends with me and welcomed me to the school this year. You may not know it but it has helped out a lot and I don't know how I will ever repay you. Thanks and the best of wishes to all of you!

The Battle of Who Could Care More

Written by Art Mullen III

It is the last day of school; a beautiful day. Birds are chirping loudly in the trees outside. "Chirp, chirp, chirp, chirp." The principal sits calmly in his office. The students, all wound up, sit in the classrooms. A tidal wave of urgent excitement looms over the whole school. Summer is finally here.

Joe sits in his English classroom, looking up at the clock. Time is flowing like a river of tar. Anxiously, he taps his pencil on his desk. The hands of the clock seem to slow down before his eyes. A second lasts a minute. The day will never end at this pace. Joe gets out of his seat. The teacher looks up.

"Joe, can I help you?"

Another student, Joe's friend, shouts out, "It's not moving. It's not moving!" The whole class looks up at the clock. It has stopped. Joe continues crossing the room.

"Everyone calm down. There must be something wrong with the clock," says the teacher, raising her hands to keep order. Joe is out of order. He is climbing on top of a desk, steadying himself against the wall, and removing the plastic covering from the clock.

"Joseph, don't try to fix the clock," urges the teacher. "Come down from there."

But he does not come down. Joe grabs a hold of the clock. He forces the minute hand around one complete revolution. The class cheers. They are one hour closer to freedom.

Outside, the birds continue. "Chirp, chirp, chirp."

In his office, the principal just happens to glance up at the clock. With a feeling of shock, he sees the hands moving. "Cheaters!" he yells. He rolls his high-backed executive recliner over to the wall and stands on top of it. "Cheaters!" he yells again sporadically.

The principal clutches onto the minute hand of his clock and forces it counterclockwise. Joe, hundreds of feet away in his classroom, gazes at the moving clock. A look of grim determination sets onto his face. The class gets behind him.

"Don't stop, Joe! Move the clock forward, my man!" Joe reaches up again, grabs the minute hand on the clock, and counteracts the principal's force. Time is brought to a dead standstill. Straining, faces blazing red, Joe and the principal fight for control of the last day of school.

Outside, the birds are screaming. "Chirp! Chirp! Chirp!"

First Joe's hand slips, and the principal adds a half hour. Then the principal loses his grip, and Joe is able to make it all the way to 1:30. Students around the school take notice as every clock in the school is evidence of the struggle.

Joe is about to force the minute hand right to the end of the day when the teacher grabs him from behind, and pulls him down off his desk. "I told you to leave the clock alone, Joe," she scolds angrily. The time winds quickly back to 1:00, then noon, then 11:00 AM. Joe, on the floor, swears angrily. Then the clock stops.

The clock then slowly advances an hour. The hands pick up speed and advance another hour. Then time speeds straight past 1:52, and the last bell rings out. All the students cheer; not only those students from Joe's classroom, but also from all the other classrooms where people had noticed what was happening and stood up on their desks to help. The principal, sitting in his office, shrugs, having tried his best to stop them. Joe and all his classmates leave, smiling.

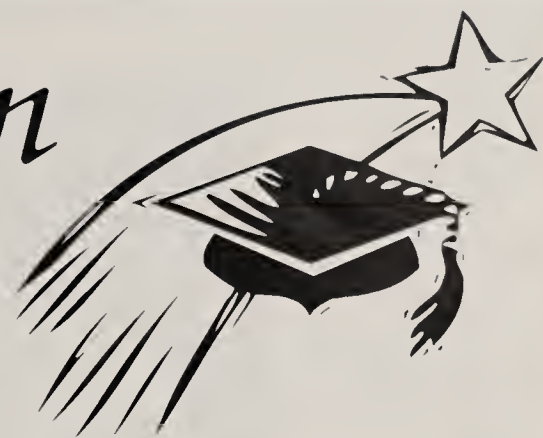

On their way out of school, some students remember the loud chirping and look around for the source of the noise. They find only empty trees. Those birds have flown.

Well, you made it. You're graduating, and we are all so very proud of you. Good luck with everything you do in life. Remember your family is always here for you no matter what. We love you!

You've matured into a magnificent young man whose gentle nature, warmth, kindness, big smile, and audacious sense of humor makes us cherish every moment with you. You've always made us proud, but more importantly, you've filled our lives with a sense of joy we would have never experienced without you. Now begins another journey of growth, discovery, independence, new relationships, and boundless learning opportunities. Go out and make a difference, and don't ever forget - we love you very much and will always be there for you. Carpe diem Ray!
